Candidate's Criticisms Perks Up Local Election

By Frank Messina

For the second time in 10 days, town officials have criticized the political activities of a Board of Selectman candidate.

George Danneman, 52 Jenkins Road, was accused of playing to the fears of senior citizens by claiming town-backed affordable housing projects will "benefit mostly minorities from Lawrence...and college students" in a campaign letter sent to elderly voters last week.

"I'd say he was a liar," said Town Manager Kenneth Mahony. "but I think he just doesn't know any better. Ignorance is not a crime."

Danneman joins candidate Jack Dziadul, 11 Acropolis Circle, in drawing Mahony's ire during the current election campaign. Dziadul was criticized last week for creating controversy over the U.S. Postal Service's alleged reluctance to put a small outlet downtown.

Danneman's letter claims "town-backed" developments have not served the elderly and pointed out alternate downtown sites for senior housing.

"We have vacant mill buildings near downtown that we could rehab into elderly housing," the letter read. "This would remove an eyecore and at the same time put elderly housing near downtown...rather than in West Andover near the proposed Emerson College site with no public transportation or services."

Mahony acknowledged that vacant mills exist that would be ideal for senior housing. The problem, he said, is money.

Danneman supports using Marland Mills on Stevens Street to create some 200 of low-cost rental units. But, the property would cost up to $15 million plus improvement costs, said Mahony. The town can't afford to buy the building, he said.

Mahony added that public transportation is available in West Andover. The Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority has a shuttle bus that travels along River Road, the MVRTA confirmed.

What bothers Mahony most about the letter is "an overall frantic tone that leads to divisiveness," in town.

"It's unfortunate," he said "that some people go to desperate measures to get an office."

Town Planner Steve Colyer said Danneman was wrong about the town supporting two West Andover apartment projects, Riverview Commons, a 220 unit complex with

Former Andover Man Honored For Service

Some people play golf in their spare time; others play tennis. Richard Close, 43, formerly of Andover, uses his time to get involved in neighborhood and community affairs.

Close, who now lives in Sherman Oaks, Calif., with his wife and two children, was recently voted most influential citizen in the San Fernando Valley for his contribution to improving the quality of life in his community. As president of the Sherman Oaks Homeowners Association, Close uses his legal and banking skills to bring about change.

The son of Maurice and Bernice Close of 35 Marilyn Road, Close was educated at Andover High School and Phillips Academy. He has a bachelor of science degree from the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania and graduated magna cum laude from Boston University Law School in 1969.

Close advocates everything from security to saving oak trees when it comes to the well-being of his San Fernando neighbors.

"These people are not poor or needy in the traditional sense," he said, "but they do have a need to have their rights protected."

Funds Sought For Penguin Park

Fund-raising for Penguin Park, a community preschool playground, has been kicked off by the Penguin Park fund-raising committee.

Members say Penguin Park is specifically designed to provide "a safe and stimulating play space for children between infancy and 6 years old." The playground will include a fenced-in, multi-level wooden structure on a base, a tricycle path, nature space, three types of swings, a wooden four-passenger car with steering wheels and a tire climbing structure designed by local architect John Dugger.

Picnic tables, benches and a water fountain will also be provided.

Andover town officials have approved Iceland Road off Route 133 near Shawsheen Square as the playground's site.

The Penguin Park fund-raising committee is seeking the financial support of individuals, businesses and community organizations to raise $30,000. The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune has donated printing services for the campaign.

Contributions are tax-deductible and may be made payable to the Town of Andover—Park and sent to Town of Andover, 36 Bartlett St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

Volunteers are also needed to help all committees. Those interested should contact volunteer coordinators Jane Nosbusch or Phyllis Beinart.

Senator Schedules Sessions

State Sen. Patricia McGovern will hold office hours in Andover. The senator or a member of her staff will be at the Andover Senior Center on Monday, March 13, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and at Memorial Hall Library the same day from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

School Plant Adequate

By Lisa Boudreau

For the time being the existing school buildings in Andover can accommodate the current number of children.

According to a study prepared for the School Committee using projected enrollment figures, the Andover schools can hold their own for the next three years, said Jack Coyle, Principal of West Elementary and member of the primary grade study group.

The report indicates that over the next five years the elementary, along with the other Andover grade levels will be experiencing a classroom space crunch.

The committee concluded that there were no options for configuration changes at present. For the next three years the kindergarten will remain centrally located at the Shawsheen School site.

Over the next year, following the upcoming Town Meeting, said committee member, Margo Tilghman, the committee will need to plan the direction to be taken beyond the next three years.

Chairman Donald Robb said the committee will use the information in the primary grade report and the Building Task Force Committee report in the total process of planning for the schools and in presentation of the half-million dollar Master Plan warrant article.

Candidate Debates

The first League of Women Voters Candidates Debate next Thursday, March 16, will give the three School Committee candidates, and two seeking the Town Moderator post, a chance to argue their merits and their views before the public. It will take place 7:30-9 p.m. in the Andover High School TV Studio (approach through the cafeteria). This is a Voters Service activity of the League of Women Voters of Andover, which urges citizens to attend and bring their questions.

A second debate in the following week will feature Selectman candidates. In both debates candidates will respond to common questions prepared by the LWV Voters Service committee and also answer questions from the audience. Both debates will be moderated by LWV member Chris Holmes and cable-cast live on a local community access TV channel.

The Thursday, March 16 debate will present School Committee candidates Richard Hubbell, Wild Rose Drive; Christopher Outwin, High Street in Ballardvale; and Andres Salazar, Salem Street. Town Moderator issues will be debated by John Doyle, Reservation Road, and James Doherty, Juniper Road.

The second Candidates Debate, the following Tuesday, March 21, 7:30-9 p.m., will present the four Selectman candidates in the same format but a different location—the Selectmen's Meeting Room in the Town Office. Contenders will be George Danneman, Jenkins Road; Jack Dziadul, Acropolis Circle; Gerald Silverman, Dufton Road; and Charles Wesson, Marrwood Drive.

Participant In Gourmet Gala

Karen Sugarman of Andover, owner of Karen Sugarman Interiors, 185 North Main St., has been chosen to participate in the March of Dimes' eighth annual gourmet gala, "A Moment in Time," on Saturday, March 11, at Boston's Marriott Hotel-Conley Place.

Boston's burgeoning social season will reach a crescendo as the gala brings together an array of celebrities, culinary masters and interior and fashion designers.

The March of Dimes is a unique partnership of volunteers and professionals working, as they have for five decades, to help every baby get a healthy start in life.

The 1989 gala include celebrities preparing favorite dishes in a cooking competition, 12 kitchens designed to capture specific "moments in time," a silent auction, elegant dining and dancing to the music of the Marsals and Frank Avrukh as master of ceremonies.

Celebrity cooks include Boston's Larry Glick, host of the WHDH Larry Glick Show, Good Day hostess Eileen Prose, Evening Magazine's Sara Edwards, Joe Martelle and Andy Moes of the Joe and Andy Morning Show, Paul Gifford of 3 Men and a Baby, Paul Benedict, the Englishman of The Jeffersons and former anchorman Tom Ellis. WBZ's Dave Murray, who took top honors in last year's competition, will either win or pass the torch to another.

Elaborate, custom-designed "period" kitchens from top interior and fashion designers, including Sugarman, provide the perfect atmosphere to showcase each celebrity's culinary skills. Settings such as a "Taste of Provence," a library on the Orient Express, an Edwardian bedroom, an 18th-century kitchen and a traditional Japanese garden room will reflect the "Moment in Time" theme.

"We always try to select a theme that will inspire our celebrity chefs and designers to explore as many directions as possible," explained event chairman Christine Montilio.

A silent auction will feature Tiffany's jewelry, a one-year membership at the Boston Athletic Club and a Grandfather Clock.

Karen Sugarman

The gala begins with the cooking competition and cocktail reception at 7 p.m. For invitations and ticket information, contact Erin Abbott at the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation Massachusetts chapter in Dedham.

Sugarman has participated in several showhouses.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Outdoor naps are good for the new-born infant, even in cold weather. The baby has enough fat insulation to keep her from getting chilled if she's dressed properly and it's not damp or windy. In the winter, the middle of the day hours are best, and in summer, before or after those hours and in a shaded spot! Down inside a carriage, he/she will be warmer than you are in cool weather, and may need less covering than you think; better to add a blanket after checking rather than take one off when the baby's hot. If you're staying more than a short time indoors, it's worth the trouble to take off the baby's outdoor clothing.

Carol J. Blinn at Warwick Press.

Printer To Show Work

An exhibition of fine, limited edition books and letter press printing made by Carol J. Blinn at her Warwick Press, Easthampton, Mass., will open Saturday, March 11 at Andover Antiquarian Books and Gallery. An opening reception for Blinn will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. on March 11. The public is invited. There is no admission charge. The show will continue through March 31. Hours of the bookshop and gallery located at 68 Park St. are Tuesday through Saturday, 10 to 5 p.m.

Carol J. Blinn was born in Vernon, Conn. in 1946. She studied at Clark University in Worcester, Mass., majored in sculpture at Hartford Art School in Hartford, Conn., and left academia for marriage and a full-time job as a stripper and cameraman at The Enterprise and Journal, a small-town offset shop in Orange, Mass. Her growing experience in the world of printing led her to work as Promotion Director for Barre Publishing Company and Imprint Society in Barre, Mass. Next came an apprenticeship under Harold McGrath at Leonard Baskin's Gehenna Press, where she was later hired to help McGrath manage Meadow Press, the commercial adjunct of Gehenna Press. Two years later Carol left Meadow Press to form Warwick Press in 1975, where she has been designing, illustrating, printing, binding, writing, editing, publishing and making decorated paste papers ever since. Commissions have included work for Mount Holyoke College Art Museum, Trinity College, Smith College, The Metropolitan Museum.

One of the books to be exhibited is a copy of "Blessings" by Bradford, Mass. author, Andre Dubus. The book, first published in 1987 and limited to seventy copies, was designed and printed letterpress at Warwick Press by Blinn.

For the three year-old child, our program meets Tuesday and Thursday from 8:45 - 11:30 a.m. Our four year-old program meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8:45 - 11:30 a.m. For the five year-old, our program meets Monday through Thursday afternoon from 12:15 - 3:00 p.m."

In the three year-old program, children are allotted time for play with toys and blocks, housekeeping equipment and quiet games as well as organized activities. Children are encouraged to express themselves creatively through art, puppet play and language experiences. Exercises and games in either the mat room or the gym are used to develop gross and fine motor control. Swim time allows the child to become familiar with the water and progress through the swimming and safety skills of the YMCA's Nation Aquatic Program, Skippers.

For children who may not have reached age five by the kindergarten cut-off date or who are not developmentally ready for kindergarten, the "Y" will be offering a new four-day program. Building on skills that were introduced in the three-day program, the program will focus on fine and gross motor development, science, cooking activities, gym and swim class and monthly field trips.

Recycled Paper Available

By Virginia Cole

We have found some places to buy recycled paper. Stationery products, computer paper, copier and print stock as well as note paper and greeting cards can be obtained from Earth Care Paper Co., Box 3334, Madison, Wisconsin 53704. They will send you a catalog for $1. The Audubon Shop in Lincoln carries card and note paper. Call New England CRINC, 508-667-0096 ext. 214 to find out about the lumber-like material for decks and docks.

This is just a beginning. Anyone who knows where we can buy goods made from recycled products, please let me know. And anyone who has some influence to buy these products please try with your company or purchasing agents. Some purchasing agents are wives and kids.

Any day now you will receive your next Andover tax bill. Along with the good news of your share of the cost to run this great town, there will be included in the same envelope, your annual recycling calendar. This calendar tells you how, when and where to recycle. Please keep this and post it in a convenient spot to refer to for pick-up weeks and glass and plastic collection times. This year also will be directions on regular trash disposal which should be helpful to all.

Several of the members of Andover Recycling receive calls quite regularly from people out of town either requesting information on how to recycle or how to get their town to recycle. Questions of where to bring their paper and glass because they can't get their town to budge come often too. I now have an unknown friend from Tewksbury who puts his paper in front of my house twice a month. He says he can't bear to throw it away. A six year old who heard me talk about recycling at the West Parish Sunday School has insisted that her family recycle—and they are beginning. A gentleman approached me downtown the other day to tell me his engineer son has been really getting after him about throwing away plastic. He was so pleased to hear he doesn't have to anymore and said he would be glad to sort or separate or whatever was necessary as his son had convinced him we weren't helping our environment to do it any other way.

The excitement at the plastics recycling truck continues to grow. We almost needed a policeman to keep the traffic moving last month. People are learning to sort and bring bags of different kinds of plastic separately. Flattened milk, water or orange juice jugs are the easiest. Styrofoam trays don't take up too much room. Start with these.

Watch for news of a recycling program at Andover High School. But before election, have you asked the candidates for Selectman about their plans for recycling in Andover? Are they interested in saving waste disposal costs or the environment and how?

AVIS Meeting

The trustees of the Andover Village Improvement Society (AVIS) announce their annual meeting to be held Tuesday, March 14 at the North Andover Country Club, Great Pond Road, North Andover beginning at 6 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the featured guest speaker, Mark Halloran will begin his presentation at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Halloran's presentation includes a slide show of his climb of Mt. McKinley in 1987. Of the many climbs he has undertaken in the last 15 years Mr. Halloran stated this ascent of Mt. McKinley is one of the best for several reasons. "It is the highest point in North America and a very beautiful yet remote and isolated mountain." Seven hikers began the climb and six made it to the top. A total of fifteen days was required to reach the summit and only four to get off the mountain.

The trustees of AVIS would also like to remind everyone of the Annual Canoe Race which will be held May 6, 1989.

AT OUR SCHOOLS

Puppeteers Bring Pinocchio To Life

The first person Pinocchio met on his way to school was a carnival owner. Puppet Projects brought Pinocchio to the West Middle School stage Saturday.

Pinocchio and his foster father were swallowed by a whale at one point but were able to escape because the whale slept with its mouth open.

After performing Pinocchio for the large crowd who attended the Kaleidoscope-sponsored event, Robert Rogers demonstrates the way he and fellow puppeteers bring their characters to life.

Townsmen photos by Matthew Sapienza

Pinocchio, instead of going to school, ran away to a place called Happydale where children could eat sweets and play all day. Soon he learned that all the children who stayed were turned into donkeys by the evil man who tricked them into going there.

Austrian Students Need Host Families

Andover residents will have an opportunity this summer to learn about the culture and customs of Austria by hosting 25 German-speaking students, ranging in age from 14 to 19. The students will come to Andover under the sponsorship of the American Institute for Foreign Study, one of the oldest educational travel programs in the United States.

The students, who all speak English, are coming to experience American life and study conversational English. Host families are needed to provide homes for these young people July 5 to Aug. 2. The students will attend morning classes and full- and half-day excursions.

The host families' primary obligation will be to provide a warm welcome and share their homes and family life. They will provide a place to sleep, meals and some transportation and have the opportunity to explain household rules and expectations. All students are fully insured and have pocket money. A 24-hour telephone number is available in case of an emergency.

By hosting an international visitor in an AIFS Homestay in America Program, "You'll promote world peace and understanding, and, at the same time, learn a lot about another part of the world. It'll be like traveling without ever leaving home," program organizers say.

The size of the home, age of your children and sleeping accommodations are not important—students often prefer to share a room, officials said. "Younger family members offer a 'safe' conversational level for many of the students who are learning English," they said.

Since students have a full schedule during the week, working parents can avail themselves of this opportunity. All members of the host family can participate in the scheduled excursions, which include a night Red Sox game.

Each family hosting a student will receive a $300-$400 scholarship that enables a family member to participate in any AIFS European, Asian or North American program of their choice any time during the next five years.

For further information, contact Katherine Henderson at Phillips Academy.

Donors

Andover High School students and staff donated $1,780 to the annual holiday Santa fund. Gifts were bought for a total of 18 needy families in the Merrimack Valley. A total of $200 was given to the Armenian Earthquake Relief Fund, and $300 was donated to Lazarus House in Lawrence. Pictured above presenting a check to Brother Thomas Petit, director of Lazarus House, is Barry Finegold, Jeff Breayale, student government adviser Mike Marcoux, Peter Radulski, Arminta Thompson, Jennifer Recesso and Andrea Napolitano.

Katz Notes Development Of Special Needs Kids

A child psychologist will talk about the social skills of children with special needs Wednesday, March 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the third-floor media center of the School Administration Building.

Dr. Ellis Katz will focus on the ways parents can help their children with social skills development. He will discuss factors related to lack of learning skills, anxiety, inhibition and aggression.

Participants will be invited to ask questions related to their children's development in relating to others, including shyness and passivity, self-concept or feeling different from others.

Rep. Susan Tucker will also speak at the program, which is being sponsored by the Andover Parents' Advisory Council for Children with Special Needs.

Katz is director of the Behavioral Counseling Center in Peabody, which provides behaviorally oriented treatment to children and their families, whose members range from aggressive or out of control to withdrawn, anxious or depressed. Katz supervised and taught behavioral psychology as a clinical fellow at Massachusetts General Hospital and Harvard Medical School.

He served as director of an outpatient clinic for North Shore Children's Hospital and before that as its director of mental retardation services. He has also been affiliated with the Fernald School and the Lindemann Mental Health Center. He was recently appointed by the commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Mental Retardation to the statewide Human Rights Advisory Committee.

Katz and his wife live in Andover with their three children. Tucker will be at the meeting to hear from parents of children with special needs and learn their concerns about budget cuts in education. She says she will relay those concerns to her fellow legislators.

Tucker will also update parents on what is happening to the education budget on Beacon Hill.

MARTIAL ARTS

By ALEX KIESEL

What is Tai Chi Chuan?

Everyone, whatever their interest or profession, wants to be healthy and have an old age free of illness and infirmity. More than 100 million Chinese practice the slow motion movements of Tai Chi and Chi Kung every day to maintain good health. This is a tradition in China that has worked for thousands of years.

Tai Chi is also a self-defense system which originated from the fusion of Taoist internal power practices and the best Kung Fu battlefield techniques of 17th Century China. All over the world today you can see practitioners in their 60's, 70's and even 80's displaying a flexibility you would not find in the average 30 year old American. Tai Chi and Chi Kung, like acupuncture and all Chinese medicine, are based on the concept of Chi—internal energy. Tai Chi exercise, if done correctly, builds Chi inside the body and circulates it throughout the system.

The following are the major benefits Tai Chi can bring the practitioner:

Health: Doctors in China regularly prescribe Tai Chi as therapy for high blood pressure, poor circulation, asthma, impotence, arthritis, and back, neck and joint problems.

Exercise & Fitness: Tai Chi produces a high degree of relaxation, balance, flexibility and coordination. It tones the muscles while releasing knots and tension in them. Its gentle non-jarring movements can be practiced by anyone, young or old, athletes or people whose health problems prevent them from doing strenuous exercise. Tai Chi enables those who have been physically uncoordinated all their lives to become coordinated. During each workout, Tai Chi exercises EVERY muscle, ligament, tendon, joint, lymph node and internal organ of the body. China's national sports teams include Tai Chi in their training to heal and reduce injuries and improve reflexes.

Stress Management: Tai Chi relaxes and regulates the central nervous system, releasing physical and emotional stress. In China it is used to prevent burnout in high-stress work and to reduce on the job injuries among physical laborers.

Meditation: Tai Chi is a Taoist method of moving meditation. It expands awareness, develops patience and dissolves internal conflicts and tensions, so that the mind can become calm and still in the midst of activity.

Self-Defense: When done at fighting speed, Tai Chi is one of China's most effective and advanced methods of combat. It is one of the few Martial Arts that people can begin studying in their 30's, 40's, 50's and even possibly 60's to attain genuine competence in self-defense without damaging the bodies. Your physique is less important than your mind.

Last but not least, Tai Chi makes you feel good.

In April Yang's Martial Arts Association, Andover is offering a NEW BEGINNERS TAI-CHI CLASS.

South Elementary School students met in their cafeteria recently for international fare—but it wasn't food. Folk singer Sandi Yellenberg, pictured above with daughter Marisa, brought her guitar, her keyboard and a couple of hand instruments. She told South second-graders, below, about the origin of folk songs and how they usually related to facets of everyday life—work, love, games—and often used everyday implements for instruments.

Pike Students Learn About French Culture

Seventh-graders at the Pike School learned about other parts of the world at their annual French dinner Feb. 28.

The students are not only studying the French language, but also cultural aspects of several areas of the world in which there are French-speaking people. This year's dinner recognized four cultures: French, Canadian, Senegalese and Cajun.

The students dressed in the fashion of these peoples and ate foods representative of their cultures.

Tell Me A Tale

Memorial Hall Library's preschool-aged "Littlest Listeners" have begun their weekly story hours with children's room librarian Bridget Bennet and her helpers. These daytime story sessions were filled some time ago by registration. However, two preschool activity sessions, free of charge that require no signup or advance notice, are the weekly "Films on Friday" and the "Pajama Party" story hour.

The movies for the March 10 "Films on Friday" are A Letter to Amy, In a Spring Garden and The Little Engine that Could. Adults should bring children to the hall on the library's top floor shortly before 10:30 a.m. for this half-hour program.

"Pajama Party" story hours begin March 9 in the children's room for six weeks from 6:30 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. These drop-in sessions for 3½-5-year-old children and their adults will feature stories, quiet songs, games and an occasional short film. Young patrons are invited to come dressed in pajamas and bring a teddy bear or other special nighttime "Buddy."

For further information, call or stop by the children's room.

Friday's Films

The March 10 Friday night film for adults is That's Entertainment, a 1974 celebration of MGM 50th year featuring highlights from the films of Fred Astaire, Bing Crosby, Mickey Rooney, Frank Sinatra and Elizabeth Taylor and others.

Facts On Fats

The high fat content of the American diet has been blamed for the national tendency toward heart disease, high blood pressure and some types of cancer. The library is hosting a workshop on fat/cholesterol control, presented by the Essex County Cooperative Extension and the Advisory Council for Home Economics, on Thursday, March 23, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Participants will learn how to lower fat intake and sample a fat-modified recipe. To reserve a seat, sign up at the circulation desk.

Homeless Handgear

If you can't find those gloves or mittens, perhaps they've taken shelter in the library's lost and found. The box is filling up; if you had them when you came, but not when you left, they might be waiting for you at the circulation desk.

The Denim War Continues

By Amy K. Morrissey

There is a war raging between Andover and Arlington, Va. But instead of a war between states, it's a war between siblings.

To Doherty Middle School art teacher Jim Batchelder and his sister, Faith B. Winter, it is known as the "denim war."

It all began in 1974. Batchelder wore a pair of torn Levis on a visit to his sister's Arlington home. Winter patched the jeans, which her brother returned as pocketless cutoffs with the patch stapled to a fraying leg.

Not content to let it rest there, Winter transformed the cutoffs into a pillow plastered with patches. The war was on.

"We went back and forth with silly things for a few more occasions, but when he repaid a debt with a denim check, the war became more serious," Winter said.

The $300 check was drawn on Andover Savings Bank. "Fortunately my bank took it in good humor and cashed it," Winter said.

After receiving the check in his statement, Batchelder presented it to his sister in a double glass frame. She retaliated by buying him a single share of Levi Strauss stock.

These tricks, or "zaps," as the siblings call them, continued. Two years ago Winter came home to find her lavatory festooned with denim seat and tank covers. She then sent her brother a Levis-upholstered armchair, complete with upholstery buttons in the form of the studs you find on your jeans pockets.

However, the climax of the war was yet to come. Last June, in honor of Winter's 45th birthday, Batchelder had his sister's garage door painted with the Levis pocket insignia. The feud turned public.

Winter is planning her next zap, which she promises will outdo the painted garage door.

Jim Batchelder

It didn't come in time for her brother's 40th birthday, which he celebrated Feb. 28. For that occasion, Winter said she made him a relatively mild wooden hoop covered in denim with the number "40" in the center.

When Batchelder's not in art class, he keeps busy at the Andover Historical Society. He lives with his parents, S. Abbot and Helen Batchelder, on 93 Argilla Road.

Are they active in the "denim war"? "Heavens no!" says Helen Batchelder. "All I do is store all the denim in the attic. I'm delighted, but I don't know where this will end."

Morrissey is The TOWNSMAN's student intern.

Cardiac Program

St. John's Hospital in Lowell announces the opening of its cardiac rehabilitation program staffed by a team of health care professionals who work together to restore the cardiac patient to a productive, independent lifestyle.

The program is designed to treat those who have suffered a heart attack and/or have stable angina. Those who have had cardiac bypass surgery or cardiac angioplasty also benefit from this program.

After an initial evaluation by the program cardiologist, the cardiac rehabilitation program develops an exercise and diet program. In addition to regularly scheduled exercise sessions using state-of-the-art equipment, the patient and family are encouraged to attend regular educational sessions on such topics as stress management, nutrition, behavior modification and risk factor reduction.

Women, Negotiations & Divorce

Most property and custody settlements are reached through negotiations rather than litigation. Negotiations can be difficult when a marriage has broken down and feelings have been hurt. You may fear that you will be overpowered in this process by both your husband and your attorney, and be coerced into accepting a settlement which does not meet your needs. The advice of an attorney both knowledgeable in family law and sensitive to your fears and wishes can help you assert your rights and negotiate a fair settlement.

Memorial Lecture Scheduled

By Virginia Lopez Begg

One of the premier annual events held by the Andover Historical Society is the Memorial Lecture presented to honor the memory of deceased members who have contributed to the society's goals. These individuals are acknowledged and their names are inscribed in the Remembrance Book.

This year's Memorial Lecture will be given by Dr. Keith Morgan on Thursday, March 16, at 8 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library. Dr. Morgan's illustrated talk will be about the designed American landscape in Massachusetts. He will focus on landscaped design in this historic state through the years.

Morgan's background is well suited to his subjects. He has published books about such important figures in American architectural history as Frederick Law Olmsted and Charles Platt. He has his doctorate in art history from Brown, has been director of Boston University's American and New England Studies Program and is at present an assistant professor and director of graduate studies in Boston University's art history department.

Landscape design is a subject unfamiliar to many people. It is a far cry from the placement of flowers and shrubs that the name seems to imply. Landscape design is architecture outdoors, the conscious planning of outdoor space to serve both functional and aesthetic needs. It is often great art, as in Renaissance Italy and the France of Louis IV. It always reflects the culture of which it is a part. So the designed landscape of Massachusetts can tell us much about our past and who we are today.

Morgan's research about Charles Platt also explores Platt's role in the development of the campus at Phillips Acad-

"Close Friends" is a 1920 photograph by Finnish photographer Victor Barsokevitch, whose work is on exhibit at the University of Lowell.

Pioneering Photos On Exhibit

The work of a pioneering Finnish photographer is on display at University of Lowell.

Photos by Victor Barsokevitch (1863-1933) will be at the university's Gallery 410 through March 17. The exhibit, which will also premier in Moscow this March, comes to America in conjunction with a proposed USA/Finland student exchange program.

The venture is a collaboration between the ULowell art department and school of continuing education and Helsinki's University of Industrial Arts (Taideteollinen Korkeakoulu or TTK), Scandinavia's foremost art and design school. Additional collaborative support is furnished by the Victor Barsokevitch Photography Center in Kuopio, Finland. Last summer, the first group of ULowell/TTK students spent three weeks touring Finland and Leningrad, Russia. The photographs made during this journey will also be on view at Gallery 410.

Of Polish origin, Barsokevitch was born in Helsinki in 1863. He spent 40 years taking pictures in Kuopio in the central Finnish lake districts. Finns from all walks of life stepped into Barsokevitch's studio: officers, mayors, housewives, pastors, secret police, as well as peddlers, vagabonds and eccentrics. Barsokevitch recorded the full panorama of provincial life, from the newly born to the recently departed.

Student Photographers Show Work

Photographs resulting from a student exchange program will be on view at the University of Lowell's Gallery 410.

Working in individual state-of-the-art darkroom facilities at Helsinki's Taideteollinen Korkeakoulu (University of Industrial Arts), students in ULowell's summer photography program produced an entire exhibit in less than a week's time, said their professor, Arno Minkinen of Andover.

Among the works featured in the Gallery 410 summer student show are photos by Susan Roux of Andover. As part of her directed studies, Roux made large-scale prints from glass plate negatives that belonged to pioneering Finnish photographer Victor Barsokevitch. These prints will also be on display at the gallery.

The ULowell art department's second three-week, three-credit Finnish summer photography course headed by Minkinen will take place this summer from July 19 to Aug. 9.

Youth Chorus To Give Concerts

The Treble Chorus of New England, cited by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities as a "leader in the cultural arts of the commonwealth," will give two spring concerts in the Memorial Music Hall in Methuen.

The first concert on Sunday, March 12, at 4 p.m. will feature the Faure Requiem. All the music in the concert will be accompanied by Richard Stultz on the great organ. He will also play the Dupre Prelude and Fugue in B major. Elizabeth Larson will accompany the Requiem on the violin. The concert will also include "Four Songs" Op. 17 for treble voices, French horn and harp, and Marie Stultz's "Song of Jubilation." The choir will be joined by the Treble Chorus Youth Ensemble singing "The 10 Children Songs" by Gerald Finzi. A professional men's chorus will add their voices to those of the young singers.

Marie Stultz, artistic director of the Treble Chorus, will direct the concert. On the faculty of the Boston Conservatory, she is devoting most of her time to composing, conducting and the training and choral development of young singers.

The Treble Chorus of New England, founded in 1975 by Stultz, is dedicated to the classical music education of children 8 to 16 years old. Based in Massachusetts, the chorus came to national attention with its 1984 performance of Paul Earl's opera Icarus with the Boston Musica Viva music ensemble. They have performed at Symphony Hall, the Boston Conservatory and Great Woods with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. The chorus and soloists have sung for such international conductors as Seiji Ozawa and Michael Tilson Thomas as well as with major opera companies and symphony orchestras throughout the United States.

Orchestra

Berlioz's Symphony Fantastique will be among the featured works at the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra's concert on Sunday, March 12, at 2:30 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church, 321 South Broadway, Lawrence.

Folk Artist Visits Shop

Even if you can't pronounce Claudia Hopf's specialty, it's known as "scherenschnitte," lovers of antiques, Americana and folk art will want to meet this unusual artist and see her work on Saturday, March 11, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. at Garrison Knoll, a shop featuring country furniture and folk art on Main Street in West Newbury.

Scherenschnitte is the art of painted paper cutwork. Hopf's intricate designs are matched by her delicate brushwork.

Scherenschnitte is a family affair for the Hopfs. After Perry does the actual cutwork from his mother's design, using surgical scissors, Claudia paints it. The finished piece is then framed by her husband, Carroll, who has produced exquisite grain-painted wood frame. Each piece is unique.

Hopf has written four books on her specialty and exhibited her work in galleries and shows from the East Coast to California.

The basketball dribble was first used professionally by Bert Loomis in 1896.

Andover Designer Among Experts At Home Show

An Andover interior designer will be among the featured guests at a home and garden show next week.

Valli Swerdlow, author of Dress Your House For Success, will give presentations on ways to increase the resale value of your home at the 1989 Suburban Home and Garden Show, which runs March 9 to 12 at the Northeast Trade Center in Woburn.

Swerdlow will be among Bob Thomson, host of WGBH's The Victory Garden, and Norm Abram of This Old House and The New Yankee Workshop.

Show organizers called the event "the largest home and garden show outside Boston in many years."

More than 300 exhibits of the latest building, remodeling, landscaping and gardening materials will showcase the latest home improvement products and techniques, organizers said.

A special Real Estate Showcase highlights banking, mortgage and real estate firms.

Thomson, author of The New Victory Garden and star of the Victory Garden Video, will be on hand all day Sunday, March 12, to answer homeowners' questions and provide gardening tips.

Abram, master carpenter on the award-winning 10-year-old series This Old House, will be the featured speaker Saturday, March 11. He will offer guidance to do-it-yourself remodelers on everything from demolition to finishing.

"Now, more than ever, suburban homeowners are finding home improvement an effective way to beat the high cost of housing," said Marvin Getman, president of Show Promotion Inc. "More and more people are enlarging, re-decorating their existing homes."

Show hours are Thursday and Friday, 4 to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Children under 6 will be admitted free.

Valli Swerdlow will lend her expertise to the 1989 Suburban Home and Garden Show at the Northeast Trade Center in Woburn this weekend.

Freud Scholar To Speak At Temple

Dr. Peter Gay, leading Freud scholar, cultural historian and author, will speak at Temple Emanuel of Andover on Sunday, March 12, at 10 a.m. His topic will be "In Praise of the Diaspora," a discussion of the forces affecting the emancipation of Germany's Jews.

Gay is a foremost authority on European history from the age of enlightenment to the modern era. He has written many awards-winning books but is best known for his provocative texts concerning the life and legacy of Sigmund Freud. Among his works are Freud: A Life of Our Time, Freud, Jews and Other

Germans and The Bourgeois.

Gay was born in Berlin, Germany, and left in 1939. He received his doctorate from Columbia University and holds several honorary degrees. He is the Sterling Professor of History at Yale University and has also been on the faculty at Columbia.

There will be no admission charge for students. Refreshments will be served following a discussion period.

Temple Emanuel is located at 7 Haggetts Pond Road.

Peace Group Plans Potluck

North Andover People for Peace will hold a potluck supper for members and friends tomorrow.

The supper will be held at North Parish Church in North Andover's Old Center from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

"Because our membership has increased so much in the last few years, we want to provide this opportunity for old members to meet with new and for prospective members to get to know us better," members said.

Everyone is welcome. For more information about the event or North Andover People for Peace, contact Gerrie Berube, 361 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Scholarship Available

Applications are still being taken for the William Albert Trow Scholarship Fund of West Parish Church. Applicants must be 21 years old or younger and residents of Andover.

Trow was a lifelong deacon of West Parish Church and had a deep concern for the education of young people, church staffers said. While preference will be given to members and those associated with West Parish Church, the fund is open to town residents.

Application forms may be picked up at the church office, 129 Reservation Road, Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Completed applications are due by April 4.

New Andover Church Uses Drama To Attract Those Who Don't Usually Go

A new concept in church-going is being used at Brookridge Community Church at West Elementary School on Beacon Street on Sundays at 10:30 a.m.

The service is designed for those who are bored with or dislike attending church. Professionally produced plays and contemporary music are the creative means by which Brookridge conveys the Christian message, Brookridge staff members said.

This recently organized church is based on a model church in Chicago, Ill., which has more than 13,00 members in attendance each week.

Two courses are being offered to the public on "The Basics of Christianity," which will be held in Wilmington on Monday evenings, and "Coping in Life," which will be held in North Andover with a choice of Monday, Tuesday or Friday evenings.

These courses are six weeks long and are free. For more information, call Pastor William D. Watson.

Brookridge is seeking quality actors, actresses and musicians who are willing to contribute their time and talents.

North Andover Church Plans Coffee House

Volunteer committees at the North Parish Unitarian Church in North Andover are planning how they will transform the parish hall into the Crossroads Coffee House by April 8.

Cindy Kallet, widely known in folk music circles, will be the first performer when the curtain rises at 8 p.m.

As the idea grew rapidly over the fall, the organizers, headed by Deb Putnam and Pat Scanlon, both of Andover, found others in the church had the idea several times before. Church members eagerly offered talents and connections.

"It just takes someone to say 'I'll start,'" Putnam said.

The church threw its support behind the project at the annual meeting in January, allocating start-up funds from the 1989 budget. One of the church members has donated money to purchase a sound system to be used for the hall and sanctuary.

Putnam is not surprised by the enthusiasm. "I think the philosophy of the church supports its," she said. "Music is really important in this church. The congregation as a whole supports it."

The resurgence of coffee houses and folk music has been fueled largely by Unitarian Universalists churches, which coordinate and house about 90 percent of the coffee houses in existence, North Parish staff members said.

Both the Haverhill and Chelmsford Unitarian churches started coffee houses in recent years.

Abbot Academy Abutters Appeal To ZBA

By Frank Messina

Making their last stand against plans to renovate an old school building into apartments, neighbors of the former Abbot Academy campus pleaded their case before the Zoning Board of Appeals last week.

It was Phillips Academy asking for a special permit to allow the conversion of the old girls' dormitory into 52 apartment units. But after losing skirmishes at last year's town meeting and the Planning Board Feb. 28, homeowners feared the ZBA hearing would be a rubberstamp of previous decisions.

Not true, ZBA Chairman Wesley Whitney told Abbot neighbors. "I think the Planning Board will tell you they can never really count on what this board is going to do."

After both sides made their presentations, Whitney said the ZBA would vote at a deliberation meeting to be held at a later date.

For almost two hours, the ZBA listened carefully as a stream of abutters poured out their concerns over traffic, the quality of the neighborhood going downhill and in particular, a 27-car parking lot on Abbot Street.

Actually, said Ron Hill, 15 Abbot Street, "many of us are now in favor of the project. The (issue) we really sink our teeth into is this parking lot."

The Abbot Street location is attractive to PA for two major reasons. With parking adjacent the Draper Hall apartment site limited to 27 spaces, the proposed Abbot Street lot is the closest alternative, say PA officials. Also, the proposed site is currently a tennis court, which means no open green space would be lost.

For 21 children on the block, parking lot traffic would be a hazard, said Abbot Street residents.

The narrowness of Abbot Street increases the potential for disaster, they added.

Hill tried to demonstrate the impact the lot would have on his home, which sits directly across from the tennis court. Handing one end of a cloth tape measure to a neighbor, he reeled out 24 feet of tape—the distance between the lot and 15 Abbot St., said Hill. Pulled tight, the measuring tape stretched little farther than the length of the ZBA conference table.

His house is "looking right down the barrel of this parking lot," said Hill.

ZBA member Jane Griswold disputed Hill's figures, saying the street was at least 29 feet wide and the parking lot would be set back several feet from the road's edge.

"We're asking for help," said Hill. "There must be a way to relocate this parking lot and still have it be effective" with PA's renovation plans.

The ZBA compared three other alternatives with PA landscape architect Nicholas Reed, who explained that fire access, lack of visual impact and technical landscaping problems also made Abbot Street the best site.

Not content with Reed's presentation, Whitney asked the architect to bring drawings of the alternate lots to a walk-through of the project site held last Saturday.

Residents also disputed traffic consultant Robert Belknap's findings. Belknap, who studied three main intersections near the Abbot campus during morning and afternoon rush hours, said traffic would only increase by about 200 vehicle trips daily after construction.

Myles Borland, 50 School St., wondered if the PA study considered the full impact of construction activity in the area. Two blocks away, St. Augustine School recently added some 40 parking spaces, and nearby South Church plans to expand its parking facilities, said Borland.

"This is going to be one of the most congested areas in Andover," he said.

After several other Abbot neighbors speculated about huge increases in traffic and congestion, Whitney asked for Belknap's response.

"You won't see (large) amounts of cars on the street," said the traffic consultant.

A restored Abbot Academy would benefit the town, said Neil Cullen, PA chief financial officer. While preserving the turn-of-the-century campus, the PA plans would bolster the town property tax base and add about 10 acres of open space to the area, said Cullen.

The PA project, including the Abbot Street lot, "is the simplest, most straightforward and safest" way to renovate Abbot Academy, said Cullen.

The girls' school was closed in the early 1970s when Phillips began a coed program. PA officials have since struggled to find a way to renovate the campus profitably.

After two different proposals failed in recent years, PA officials suggested converting Draper Hall, a former dormitory, into 52 apartment units. Two other buildings on campus would house a child care center and a document preservation firm.

ZBA approval would "assure preservation" of Abbot Academy, said Neil Cullen, PA chief financial officer. If rejected by the ZBA, PA plans to tear down the campus, said Cullen.

McQuade Protests Lack Of Funds To Replace Old DPW Equipment

By Frank Messina

Any doubts that the fiscal 1990 town budget will be tight were shredded Monday night by DPW Director Robert McQuade.

At best, most programs will be level funded—a financial euphemism for trading water—Finance Director Tony Torrisi told the Board of Selectmen, which later approved a $53.8 million budget after laboriously reviewing the document department by department.

But, as McQuade pointed out, in some areas the town's financial boat is dangerously close to springing a leak.

"This is the first year in my experience that there is no funding for replacement of equipment in public works," said McQuade, an 18-year town employee. Spending for items like sand trucks has sunk in recent years from $120,000 to the $65,000 allotted in 1988, said McQuade, who requested $255,000.

Several vehicles and other pieces of equipment sit in the town yard in disrepair, forcing the town to rent replacements, said McQuade.

"If we keep with zero funding, we're going to have an equipment junkyard back there," he said.

The DPW director got no argument from Town Manager Kenneth Mahony. "We're going to need money in this account," he said. But right now, "the money is just not there."

McQuade called the status of his deteriorating equipment yard "the beginning of the end" and warned of dire consequences if the account wasn't funded somehow.

"We can't take from existing programs when we can probably get by (in equipment replacement) for another year," said Mahony.

When preparing the preliminary budget in January, Torrisi said the state revenue picture looked brighter. The finance director hoped he could channel hoped-for increases in state aid into equipment replacement but recent State House proposals slashing municipal funding canceled those plans, he said.

One temporary solution, selectmen speculated, might come courtesy of Mother Nature. The mild winter has left about $250,000 in the snow removal program

Selectmen Tie On Vote To Purchase $280,000 Fire Truck

By Frank Messina

A short-handed Board of Selectmen was stalemated Monday night over the purchase of a $280,000 fire truck.

With Selectman Jim Barenboim absent, the 2-2 vote would have kept the board from giving its blessing of the purchase at next month's town meeting, but the selectmen agreed to take the issue up again at their March 20 meeting.

With a six-story apartment building and other high-rise projects planned in West Andover, Fire Chief Harold Hayes said the town needs an aerial ladder fire pump truck.

But Chairman William Downs said the townspeople might not approve the $280,000 price tag. The fire department had originally proposed a $180,000 non-aerial ladder pumper and "I wouldn't like to see (a fire truck) voted down because of a change of $100,000," he said.

Selectman Gail Ralston said she talked with Andover firemen last weekend who expressed concerns the town would need to hire more personnel to man the proposed truck. "If our firemen say there is not enough manpower now, my question is, why should we buy it?" she asked.

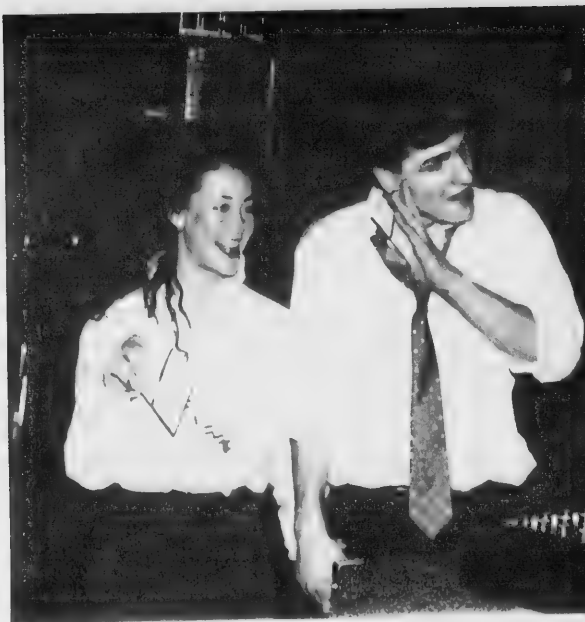

But Town Manager Kenneth Mahony called the firefighters' reaction a bargaining ploy for upcoming contract negotiations. "I'm extremely resentful that they are trying to bring staffing levels into this," said Mahony. "We have four deputy chiefs and a (fire) chief. They are the people who should be answering" whether more firefighters would be needed for a new truck.

Hayes said the aerial pumper is versatile and "isn't any different than any other piece of equipment we're currently using. No additional manpower would be need to operated this truck."

Both Selectmen Gerald Silverman and Charles Wesson supported the chief. Silverman commented he would rely on Hayes' recommendation.

A Logical Need

There is some debate as to whether or not the town needs an additional aerial ladder-pumper for the fire department to be placed at the West Andover fire station.

Frankly, the only question should be how to pay for this necessary piece of public safety equipment.

That Andover has grown is a foregone conclusion.

But a cursory examination of the West Andover area indicates that the major growth over the past several years has been in that particular area.

These are not residential properties, but industrial and commercial buildings, some of them apartment or condo type units.

True, the town does have a single ladder truck located at the central station.

A run to the West Andover area from the central station would be time-consuming and would pose a threat should a major fire occur there.

Secondly, the central station aerial piece should be available to that section of town as well as the southern area of Andover.

One might argue that mutual aid could be of some assistance, but in both instances, response by Lawrence to the west section of town, or Tewksbury or Wilmington for the south, also prove to be time-consuming.

The town currently has an old aerial truck, a platform type that was retired a couple of years ago when the new straight aerial was acquired.

To repair the old unit would prove to be too costly, and its reliability may also still be in question.

Thus the proper response is for a new aerial unit.

And the town should be able to find a way of financing the purchase of such a unit.

Budget constraints as outlined at this week's selectmen's meeting indicated that such things as equipment purchase and repair within the public works department will be put on hold in order to contain municipal spending.

Frankly, when budget decisions must be made, it is hardly time to decide some economies must be practiced and efficiency instituted.

These considerations should be recognized early on and acted upon by our professional management leadership.

That the state aid account would not be as great as in past years has been known for some time, for instance, but no adjustments apparently were taken into consideration.

It almost seems as though the town is getting back to the budget planning by crisis method. And that is not a desirable alternative to difficult economic times.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

'Let Ye All Be Irish Tonight' was the predominant theme at the Collins Center Tuesday night as the Irish Rovers brought their 25th anniversary concert tour to Andover.

It's really amazing how nationality and ethnicity takes a back seat at this time of year and for a concert of this type. You just had to look around the sold-out house to realize that despite the heritage of the attendees, Irish was the theme for the night.

I'd suppose that at least 98 percent of those settling back into their seats at the opening drum were sporting something green.

And it didn't take very long for the audience to get warmed up, singing along with the various chorus offerings, clapping hands to the music and enjoying a laugh or two from this famed musical group.

They had the group in full musical, participatory tilt from the outset, but their rendition of 'The Unicorn' sealed the audience into the program, ensuring a pleasant time for all.

Admitting their appreciation to America for the 25 years of success, the Rovers included a tribute to the country to round out the first part of the program.

The group played to a packed house two years ago at the Collins Center, and Tuesday night at the conclusion of their encore said 'We've had such a good time, we'll be back next year if you want us.'

The audience gave every indication they would be welcome, and by their applause expressed a desire that they stay longer Tuesday night.

With that 'the green wave' that was the audience headed out into the bitter cold, warmed by the Rovers and humming an Irish tune or two, easing the anxiety of the parking lot.

A great night!

Oh pity the poor weatherman.

Last week, a couple of storm threats aimed up the coast and were predicted by all the TV weather experts to present some severe problems here.

Yet, lo and behold, a high met a low somewhere over Ballardvale and nary a flake was seen in this area from one of the predicted blizzards. Another dropped not even enough snow to make a snowman if you scooped up the accumulation from the entire street.

Actually, I think the supermarket owners lobby the weather people when business gets bad in their particular section of the economy, because a prediction of any storm of dire consequences sends folks scurrying to the grocery shelves for all sorts of things whether needed or not.

Do a little shopping now with the sun shining, because I still think we may get a good storm or two before winter bows out completely. That advice is from a person who sticks a damp finger out the window to check the wind direction and make the daily weather prediction.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — March 1889

Monday, the day prior to the annual town meeting, in contrast to the same time last year, when it was quite cold and the ground covered with snow, was almost as mild as an early spring day, consequently, there was a large attendance and it was a lively, interesting meeting, the debates on some questions waxing quite hot, and a few times we must say, a little better. On the whole, however, it was a satisfactory meeting.

Soon after, 12 o'clock, when the polls were open, the people began to pour in from all part of the town and at the time for the opening of the general business, every seat was filled and a large number standing in the vacant spaces.

At a sparsely attended election Monday, Andover's few contests resulted in no upsets. The election saw no present office-holder defeated, with two new names being added to the list of elected officials to replace two who had retired. Harold T. ### A Caring Man

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Andover has lost a great man. The death of Ted Boudreau leaves a hole in many hearts. During a recent long distance call, I was startled when my father said, "I've got bad news for you." Bad news indeed. My mind instantly swung back to 1957 when Ted Boudreau was my seventh-grade science teacher. It was a joy to be in his class. He had an exuberant, positive personality. But even more important was his genuine concern for his students. You knew that mattered to him.

When the school day ended, there was always a gaggle of kids heading straight for Mr. Boudreau's room to visit. That was one place where you could count on a warm welcome. Now that I too am a teacher, I realize what a nuisance we must have been! But he had such a heart for kids that he dealt graciously with all these intrusions.

Surely volumes could be written about Ted Boudreau's kindness. One day I missed the bus home to West Andover. He proceeded to drive me home. We all knew that he had a sleek black Cadillac, which he did not usually drive to school. He didn't have it that day either. I'm embarrassed to say that I had the nerve to ask if we could go and get his Cadillac! Incredibly, he granted my request. We drove to his home and he switched cars. I felt like a queen for a day riding in the Cadillac with my favorite teacher. This gesture was typical of him. He was always willing to extend himself for others.

Ted Boudreau has a special place in many hearts. He touched countless young lives. This was the story of his life—CARING. He was truly a legend in his own time.

Support The Arts

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

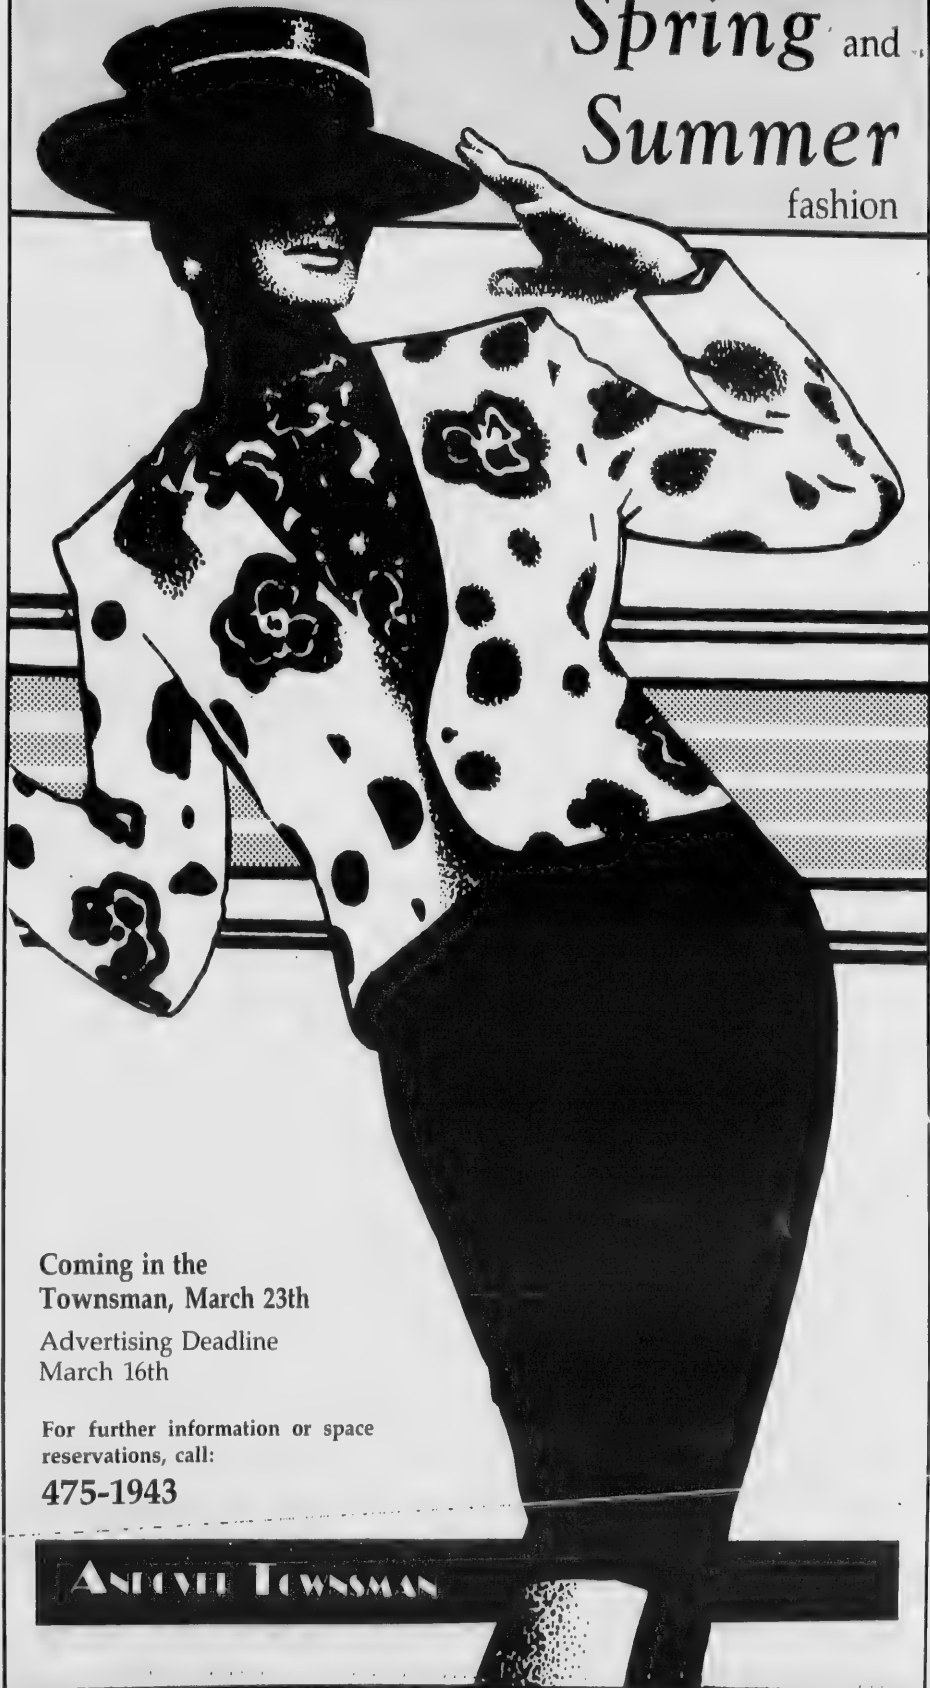

Massachusetts House Ways and Means Committee Chairman, Richard Voke has proposed cuts totalling $582 million from next year's budget in order to counter new or increased taxes for Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities. The impact of earlier reductions in allocations to M.C.A.H. from $22 million last year to $19 million this year was felt by all cultural community and educational non-profit programs and agencies, large and small. The proposed elimination of funding for the arts and humanities from the Massachusetts budget would be a terrible, irretrievable blow.

Between July 1 and August 8, 1988 alone, the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities awarded over $132,000 to cultural agencies and multi-service centers in the Greater Andover community for programs, educational outreach, teacher training, historic conservation, and the performing and visual arts. We were the beneficiaries because this is our own backyard.

But these are not the only purveyors of cultural enrichment to our community. Support from the Council to institutions beyond our immediate neighborhood as the Children's Museum, the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Science Museum, the Aquarium, and the Children's Discovery Museum, to mention a few, as well as our libraries also add to the quality of our environment.

There is no question that the large problems in our communities want addressing. A plea for support to the arts in no way diminishes the importance of serving other needs. But the dissolution of the major resource for sustaining our cultural traditions and strength is simply counterproductive and wrong.

Lady Warriors Bow In Tourney

By Rick Harrison

A Bishop Fenwick team that proved just a shade too quick for the Andover High girls brought the Lady Warriors' season to a close recently, the Peabody crew hanging tough for a 59-54 victory in the opening round of the Eastern Mass. Division 1 North Tournament.

The loss brought to a close a second consecutive tournament year for AHS, whose streaky season produced a 12-9 final record.

The absence of a 30-second clock caused a few problems at the Fenwick game, as did the home team's small, handbox gym.

The teams were tied 14-14 after one quarter, Fenwick led 32-31 at halftime, and the winners clung to a slender 43-42 edge after three periods.

"Our kids worked extremely hard and I'm very pleased about that," said coach George Sullivan, whose team finished third behind Haverhill and Chelmsford in the Large School Division of the Merrimack Valley Conference.

"Nicole Ricci (14 points, 10 rebounds) played the game of her life, Jackie Kupa (5-11 center) came back to 100 percent and was outstanding inside, and both Julie Salazar and Lee Dziadosz delivered their usual performances.

"What killed us was getting into early foul trouble. It was mostly a case of our reaching on defense, instead of moving our feet. We got caught, and before it was over Kara Slavin and Jodi Jangro fouled out, two girls had four fouls and two others had three," noted Sullivan.

"Another reason for the fouls was Fenwick's quickness. We tried to give them some pressure but it didn't work."

Fenwick actually built its one-point fourth quarter lead to nine points, but Andover cut it back to three points with less than a minute to play.

"Our girls worked the clock well at the end," explained Sullivan. "Our fouls were smart ones, but they were hitting the free throws and we eventually ran out of timeouts. The last minute took about 20 minutes to complete.

"When it was over we had to accept that it was our last game, but also realize we made some great improvements."

Junior Nicole Ricci's 14 points led the Lady Warriors' effort, while others in double figures were Julie Salazar with 13, Lee Dziadosz 12 and Jackie Kupa 11.

Jodi Jangro added three points and sophomore Liz Hanson contributed a free throw.

Also playing well were Dee Dee Castinoli, Kristen Sullivan, Grace Perry and Kara Slavin.

Kupa pulled down 15 rebounds, Ricci 10 and Salazar 10.

Lisa Marcinkowski and Lupe Todd paced Fenwick with 20 and 17 points respectively, while Beth Kawczynski hurt Andover with her outside shooting in the fourth quarter.

Andover will graduated four seniors: Lee Dziadosz, Julie Salazar, Jackie Kupa and Kristen Sullivan.

Returning next year will be Nicole Ricci, Jodi Jangro, Kara Slavin, Grace Perry, Laura Hebeisen and Kim Daley.

The goal of Children and Hospitals Day at The Children's Museum in Boston on Saturday, March 11, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. is to familiarize children with hospital equipment and medical procedures in a positive way to help alleviate their fear of doctor and hospital visits.

Children can see, play, touch and learn about medical equipment, procedures and general health practices, find out what's in blood and see their heart beat on an EKG. There will be displays on x-rays, finger casting, nutrition, poison prevention and more.

St. Augustine B Finishes Perfect

By Rick Harrison

Division champion St. Augustine B completed a perfect 10-0 season by holding on to nip upset-minded South Church, 33-31, and Chris Shea of St. Robert's B overhauled South's Mike Lastrina to win the individual scoring title, as the Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division wrapped up 1988-89 activities last week at the West Middle School gym.

St. Robert's A secured second place with a 7-3 record, in spite of a 31-23 setback to vastly-improved Ballardvale United, and St. Robert's B rode Adam Ferry's single-game season-high 28-point performance to a 61-24 decision over St. Augustine A.

Chris Shea finished the 10-game campaign with 106 points while Mike Lastrina, held to six in his finale against SAB, closed with 101 after leading the pack most of the way.

Other top scorers, in order, were Kevin Lewis (SRA) with 97 points, Adam Ferry (SRB) 96, Paul Lisiak (SAB) 93, Mike D'Angelo (SAA) 92, Jamey Lionette (SAB) 89 and Colin Arsenault (BU) 79.

St. Augustine B, 33-31

South (4-6) played one of its better games of the season, particularly in the first half when it took five 20-footers by Adam Goddess of St. Augustine B to keep the division champs close.

South trailed 10-7 after one quarter, inched ahead 19-18 at the half, and the rivals were deadlocked 22-22 entering the final period.

There were no last-second heroics, as once SAB took a 24-22 lead it maintained a 2-4 point advantage the rest of the way.

The free throw line enabled South to stay close, that team converting 9-of-17 to just 3-of-10 for the division champs.

St. Augustine B held a 15-11 edge in fieldgoals.

Jamey Lionette, who pocketed six points in the first quarter, and Adam Goddess paced the champs' offense with 10 points apiece.

Paul Lisiak added 7, including three in the fourth period, while Larry Gibson tossed in 4 points and Josh Nelken had a key fourth-quarter bucket.

Completing the roster of the division titlists are Peter Cookson, Manu Sharma, George Loukatas and Sean Gauthier. Tom Torrisi also played the first three games.

Todd Gray, who finished the season with a rush by scoring 39 of his 58 points in the final three games, was top marksman for South with 11 points.

Ryan Morgan added 7 points, swishing three foul shots in the fourth stanza, Mark Lastrina was limited to 6, Ed McKertich netted 5 and Kevin Murphy a fourth-quarter fieldgoal.

Matt Doyle and Adam Cohen also played well.

St. Robert's B, 61-24

Adam Ferry and division scoring champ Chris Shea combined for 43 points, as SRB put the contest on ice with a 25-9 run in the opening period against St. Augustine A.

SAA was undermanned with the absence of top marksman Mike D'Angelo (92 points).

Ferry poured through 28 points, including 15 in the first quarter, while Shea added 15 points with 13 in the opening half.

Rejji Hayes contributed 8 points, Mark Baker 6, Paul Durant 2 and John Spignesi 2.

Brian Croteau saved his best game for last with 12 points to power St. Augustine A. Rich Radulski added 6, Rod Lumley 4 and Dave Bromberg 2.

Greg Peters, Kevin Cronin, Dave Halloran and Todd Cadaganturned in strong floor games for SAA.

Ballardvale United, 31-23

Once again Ballardvale (4-6) played the ultimate team game, hitting the open man for shots, and Mike D'Agostino drained some pretty 10-footers as BU upset St. Robert's A.

Ballardvale was clinging to a slim 23-20 lead after three periods, but used an 8-3 fourth-quarter run as the springboard to victory.

D'Agostino tossed in two baskets in the

Murnane Honored As Top Coach

By Rick Harrison

First-year Andover High hockey coach Mike Murnane was honored recently by his peers, being selected the Merrimack Valley Large School Division "Coach-of-the-Year."

Murnane was selected after directing the Golden Warriors to a highly-competitive 7-12-1 overall record.

Praise for the work done by Murnane and assistant Scott Seero was unanimous from fellow MVHL coaches, who also chose Haverhill's Walter Newell as the Small School "Coach-of-the-Year."

The two AHS coaches, teammates on the most successful Golden Warrior team in history and the only one to play at Boston Garden, inherited a team with only seven seniors and very little experience on the forward line.

They molded the club into a respected unit playing in one of the state's toughest leagues, home of such traditional powerhouses as Billerica, Tewksbury and Chelmsford.

In only one game was Andover clearly outclassed, and several times against Billerica, Chelmsford and Haverhill the Golden Warriors were either tied or within a goal entering the final minutes of play.

Large School champ Billerica struggled to beat Andover twice (6-3, 6-2), Chelmsford won the second meeting 6-4 after netted two goals in the final five minutes, and Small School power Haverhill came from behind to nudge the Warriors 6-3.

"We're gonna be OK," said Seero at a recent Eastern Mass. Tournament game involving MVHL qualifier Billerica. "We had a tremendous group of kids this year, and both Mike and I really wish we had every one of them back next season."

Graduating from the squad will be top scorer and Co-Capt. Matt Pothier, who amassed close to 70 total points the past two years, Co-Capt. Andy Weiner, defensemen Chip Stella and Dave Sopp, and forwards Chris McAnally, Jack Dalton and Doug Bleszinski.

Pothier and Weiner was accorded Honorable Mention status on the 1988-89 Merrimack Valley All-Conference hockey team.

Returning to form next year's nucleus will be goaltenders Ed Owens, Mike Daley and Michelle DeStefano, forwards

Sean Darwin, Randy Moreau, D.J. Camorata, Frank Morey, Mike Murnane, Ed Thistle, Mike Ristuccia and Dan Feeley, and defensemen Todd Roycroft, Todd Alard, Mark Ruskin and Jim Morris.

Darwin was the "find" of the year as he finished the second leading scorer on the club.

Banquet

The annual Andover High hockey awards banquet, sponsored by the Hat Trick Club which is a parent boosters' group, will be held next Wednesday, March 15 at the Sheraton Rolling Green.

A social hour will begin at 6 p.m., with a buffet dinner and the presentation of awards to follow.

Council Meeting

The spring general meeting of the Middlesex-Essex Postal Customer Council will be held Tuesday, March 14, at the new Holiday Inn, Route 133, on the Tewksbury/Andover line, and Wednesday, March 15, at the Sheraton-Tara in Danvers. Both meetings will be held from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

Representatives of the New England

Direct Marketing Association will speak on "How to get Your Direct Mail Opened and Responded to."

The Postal Customer Council is a joint partnership between members of the business community and postal service.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Bob Norton, color commentator for hockey games on NESN, former assistant hockey coach at UNH and current candidate for the athletic director's job at UNH.

During the course of the evening Andover's "Outstanding Opponent" will be presented a trophy, with this year's award going to Lawrence High goaltender Sean Quaglietta.

The Andover JV team will be cited for its excellent 11-6-2 record, captains for the 1989-90 Andover team will be announced, and numerous awards including the team MVP trophy will be presented.

Pee Wee A's Host Tourney

Last weekend the Pee Wee A hockey team played host to Concord, NH, Dover, NH and Avon, Conn. as the four teams competed in the annual Andover Cup Tournament in games that were played at Phillips Academy. In the semi-final round Andover faced off against Avon in a game that Andover was able to totally dominate play. Andover won the game by a score of 10-0 as Scott Munroe scored three goals while Bobby Daley and Ryan Moynihan scored two goals each. Other scorers for Andover included Richie Enos, Brendan Sheehy and Dave Wartman. Goaltenders Fred Sunderland and Phil Smith combined in net for Andover for the shutout.

In the championship game Andover's opponent was Concord who had earlier in the weekend beaten Dover. Andover started slowly as a swift skating and crisp passing Concord team carried the play in the early going. Concord finally was able to score a powerplay goal with less than a minute to play in the first period to take a lead of 1-0. In the second period Concord increased its lead as they scored their second goal after less than four minutes of play. Andover then began picking up their play as they created several good scoring opportunities. However, despite this strong effort, Andover was thwarted on every attempt and Concord was able to hold on to its lead and gain a 2-0 win for the Cup Championship. The win by Concord marked the fifth straight year that they have won the annual tournament.

In regular league action Andover got goals from four different players as they skated to a 4-1 victory over Tewksbury at the Methuen High School rink. Ryan Moynihan scored Andover's first goal with only seven seconds left in the first period when he lifted a backhand high into the net after he gained control of a rebound of a shot by Brian Flanagan. Then early in the second period Sheehy scored from in front after receiving a pass from Enos. Before the second period had ended, Andover increased its lead to 3-0 when Wartman managed to tip in a shot from the point. Adam Gurry and Moynihan picked up assists on the play. In the third period Paul Allard scored for Andover from a scramble in front of the net as he jammed home a pass which McQuade estimates would cover about three snow storms. Anything left over could be used for equipment purchases, the selectmen agreed.

Andover Skiers Place Third

The permanent fix might be to concentrate funds in future budgets on a minimum of badly underfunded areas, instead of spreading available money thinly across the programs, said Mahony.

The town manager also supports bolstering elderly services. Here the budget "could be doubled without meeting their needs," said Mahony. Town costs for seniors' programs are "not major in terms of total dollars, but if you're talking impact to the community, this (program) is of major impact," he said.

from Bobby Daley. Then with only seven seconds left in the game, Tewksbury scored to ruin an attempt for a shutout by the combined goaltending of Sunderland and Smith.

On Monday night Andover played Manchester, NH at the Tufts Forum. After Manchester had gotten off to a two goal lead after the first period, Andover came back in the second period when Dave Wartman scored a goal after passes from Moynihan and Flanagan. In the third period Manchester regained their two goal lead when they scored at the eight minute mark. Then Daley scored with Dave Bailey getting an assist. As play continued both teams were unable to take advantage of some good scoring chances. Finally, in the last minute of the game Andover just missed scoring the tying goal as they suffered a tough 3-2 loss.

Junior Warriors Win Three

The Merrimack Junior Warriors won all three of its basketball games this week defeating North Andover 25-23, North Reading 53-48 and St. Augustine's 35-18. The Warriors overall record is 16-7.

J.J. McCormick netted 14 points as Chad Bowman dished out 6 assists in the N.A. win. Eric Danis scored 6 and Hohn Bowman 4.

BUSINESS PROFILES

RE/MAX preferred, inc.

RE/MAX Preferred, Inc.

Owners Fred, Steve and Joe Fischelli have successfully completed the first year of business at the North Andover RE/MAX office. Since its opening, this real estate franchise has shown impressive growth in the Merrimack Valley.

RE/MAX is an international residential real estate company with over 21,000 agents in 1,400 offices throughout North America. The North Andover branch office is tastefully decorated, affording a pleasant atmosphere in which to conduct real estate transactions. RE/MAX is a unique concept in real estate. Each broker is self employed and has complete control over his listings. He retains 100% of his commission from which he has discretion to deduct what expenses, in addition to overhead, he deems appropriate for the specific listing. Each broker has the ability to individualize the marketing plans for his listings. He is his own time manager, advertiser, and marketing analyzer. The agent and customer have total control as they plan together the best approach for a quick satisfying transaction, and need not deal with the interference of a third party.

RE/MAX brokers regularly attend educational seminars to remain current with the latest information available that impacts the real estate business. At the annual International Convention in Las Vegas in March, one of the North Andover brokers, Sue Papalia, will receive an award. Featured speakers will be Harvey Mackay, author of the best seller Swim with the Sharks Without Being Eaten Alive, and Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach. In April, at the New England Regional Awards, both Sue Papalia and Norma Hyder will be honored.

Steve Fischelli is the manager and a broker of the RE/MAX office in North Andover. They are located at 451 Andover Street (Rt. 114), across from Merrimack College. Telephone: 686-5300. R.C. Bernal

by

SlenderQuest
TONING & TANNING SYSTEMS

It's that time of year when we either want to maintain the tan acquired during a winter vacation, prepare our skin for a trip south in the spring, or just give ourselves a taste of what summer will be like. New Bodies by Slender Quest offers tanning sessions as part of their three-fold services for the body. For tanning, they offer the Wolf System with wide beds that leave no tan lines.

The new European Universal Body Wrap is available at New Bodies. This Sea-Clay based process tones and tightens loose skin and tissue. It reduces unsightly cellulite.

fades stretch marks, benefits men with problem stomachs, helps women who want hips, thighs, and upper arms tightened and lifted, aids dieters who want to lose inches from the "right" places, and helps those who do not have excess weight to lose inches and improve their shape.

The third phase in New Bodies' beautifying plan is Slender Quest Toning Systems. "This is a quick, easy, inexpensive way to get in shape. Seven different machines are designed to work on all parts of the body; to tone, tighten and rid the body of cellulite. This is for persons of all ages, sex and physical condition. Our program is especially beneficial to those with heart conditions, arthritis, high blood pressure and physical handicaps," states their brochure.

New Bodies was a sponsor for Miss New Hampshire who competed in the Miss U.S.A. Pageant.

Call owner Rose Bistany at (508) 688-8040 for information on their current specials. The first visit is free. New Bodies has convenient parking at its location in Messina's shopping Plaza, Main St. North Andover.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Dorothy M. Winn

Congressman Chester Atkins will conduct a Senior Citizens' Forum on Sunday, March 12, from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the Andover Senior Center. Congressman Atkins is conducting this session to seek your input on issues affecting residents of the Merrimack Valley. If you have questions or comments about Social Security, catastrophic health care, foreign aid, environmental protection, or other issues, come to the forum and share your thoughts and concerns with the Congressman. Refreshments will be served.

Have you completed your 1988 state and federal income tax returns? If the answer is no, perhaps you need assistance. Free income tax assistance is available Monday through Friday at the Andover Senior Center. Call 470-3830 for an appointment.

Tickets are on sale now for the annual Council on Aging St. Patrick's Day Party on March 17 at the Senior Center. The fun begins at noon with a corned beef and cabbage dinner, followed by Chet Harndan and his Big Band Sound. Prizes and surprises for all are included in the $2.50 ticket price. Space is limited, so get your tickets early.

Commodity foods will be distributed on Monday, March 20, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Senior Center. ## Raytheon Sets New 1988 Records

Raytheon established record 1988 sales, earnings, earnings per share, return on equity and year-end U.S. government backlog, the company announced.

Earnings climbed 10 percent to $489.6 million on a sales increase of 7 percent to $8.192 billion. Earnings per share increased 20.1 percent to $7.35. Comparable results for 1987 were sales of $7.659 billion, earnings of $445.1 million and $6.12 earnings per share.

"Raytheon's 1988 was another good year. This was the second consecutive year in which earnings per share increased by 20 percent and they have increased by 60 percent over the last three years," said Chairman Thomas L. Phillips. "A return on equity of 25.1 percent was an all-time company record."

The increase in earnings reflected higher sales with higher operating income and a lower effective federal income tax rate. Earnings per share were further enhanced through fewer shares outstanding.

Setting the pace for Raytheon's 1988 record results was electronics, the company's largest business segment, which accounted for 61 percent of company sales versus 61.9 percent in 1987. Electronics was again led by the strong performance of the missile systems division. The aircraft products and energy services business segments completed turnaround years. Both segments operated at a profit for each quarter throughout the year.

The company's government electronics business remained strong throughout 1988, despite relatively flat government spending. Raytheon won several major awards, including more than $1 billion worth of contracts in the air traffic control area.

The missile systems division's Patriot air defense missile system received a funding increment of $863 million for the third production year of a five-year contract. The division's Hawk surface-to-air missile system received a four-year production contract; first deliveries of the Standard-2 Navy missile were made in June; and the company received additional funding for the advanced medium range air-to-air missile, which is being flight tested by the Air Force.

The equipment division won two important FAA awards as part of the master plan to modernize the nation's air traffic control system. Raytheon will provide the displays for the IBM team's advanced automation system. Separately, Raytheon will develop and produce up to 102 airport Doppler weather radars to warn air traffic controllers of hazardous windshear conditions. In addition the company teamed with Allied-Signal to develop a new system to electronically identify friendly aircraft at long range. The division also received its first orders for its family of militarized, 32-bit VAX-based computers.

The aircraft products segment's sales increased by more than 30 percent. Beech Aircraft's Model 1900, a 19-seat commuter, executive and special mission aircraft, was a key factor in the subsidiary's improvement. Beech introduced the smaller Model 1300 commuter aircraft and increased sales of its Beechjet and King air models. The company's revolutionary all-composite Starship business turboprop received FAA type certification in June.

Although energy services' sales were below last year's levels due to lower "pass-through" sales, its profit-generating sales increased, thereby enhancing profitability in each quarter of the year. The companies in the segment now serve a broader range of industries and offer a greater spectrum of services to a wider base of customers.

Sales for the major appliance segment increased, but profits declined due to start-up costs on new product introductions, higher material costs and continued price competition.

Sales growth continued in other lines. Sales and profitability increases were particularly strong at Cedar Rapids, an industry leader in rock crushing and road surfacing equipment. Profits for the total segment were down from 1987 primarily due to D.C. Heath's continued investment in a new reading program introduced in 1988.

At year end, Raytheon's total backlog was $8.712 billion, with funded U.S. government orders a record $6.759 billion. At the end of 1987, total backlog was $8.470 billion including $6.362 billion in U.S. government orders.

The diversified electronics company also reported a good 1988 fourth quarter in comparison to last year's final quarter, Raytheon's strongest quarter of 1987. Sales for the quarter were $2.209 billion, up 3.4 percent from the $2.137 billion a year earlier. Fourth quarter 1988 earnings were $127.3 million, up 8 percent, or $1.92 per share, up 13.6 percent, compared to $117.9 million and $1.69 per share during 1987's fourth quarter.

The company continued to restructure its balance sheet, although at a reduced pace from the previous three years. Slightly more than 1.5 million Raytheon shares were acquired in 1988, virtually all in the first half, bringing to 20 million the total shares purchased since the company began its repurchase program in December 1984. In the third quarter of 1988, the board of directors authorized the additional purchase of up to five million shares of Raytheon stock.

In the fourth quarter of 1988 and in accordance with statement no. 944 of the financial accounting standards board, Raytheon Credit Co. was consolidated with Raytheon Co.'s financial results. Consolidated debt was 44.9 percent of equity at year end.

Earnings per share are based on the average number of shares outstanding during the period. For 1988, there was an average 66.6 million shares outstanding compared with 72.8 million during 1987. In the fourth quarter there was an average 66.3 million shares outstanding, compared with 70 million a year earlier.

55 low income apartments and Brookside Estates, a 168 unit project with 42 low income dwellings.

"If you read the transcripts, the AHPC (Andover Housing Partnership Committee) was against Riverview Commons," said Colyer. "And that project was approved before the Board of Selectmen had a chance to vote on it." The town also withheld support of Brookside Estates, he said.

Neither project will be dominated by Lawrence minorities, said Colyer. Andover residents will have priority in 75 percent of low income housing in both apartment complexes, said the planner.

In an interview, Danneman accused both Colyer and Mahony of harboring old grudges stemming from a clash two years ago when the candidate was forced from the AHPC.

Asked if he thought town officials still held a grudge against him, Danneman replied, "Yes, I do. Both Steve and Ken are continually stirring up controversy against whatever candidate they don't want to serve in office. I think it's rather obvious."

Colyer denied his remarks were politically motivated. "Statements like those that I know to be untrue, I have to respond to. I can't let stuff like that lay out there."

Danneman said his letter wasn't "trying to stir up fears. It is simply a statement of fact. It wasn't meant as a scare tactic."

"I feel Andover should take care of its senior citizens, town employees and other residents first before addressing the needs of others. After we take care of all our citizens, then we can take care of minorities from other places," he said.

According to the selectman's candidate, neither West Andover housing project specifies that Andover residents have priority.

Far from scaring citizens, Danneman said well-wishers have called him to support his position. "I haven't gotten any negative calls."

In fact, "I've had such good response, I think I'll send out more," he said.

two one-act plays, "It's Easy to Write a Play" and "The Purple Door Knob."

Opposition by the directors of the Taxpayer's association to the purchase of the Shaw and Grout properties for a town hall site was requested in special articles in the annual town warrant to be acted on next Monday is expressed to Andover's taxpayers. All of the financial matters in the warrant are covered in the booklet which has a preamble warning the taxpayers of the expected large increase in the tax rate caused mainly by the high state tax.

Members of the local League of Women Voters attended hearings on bill for reorganization of the State Parole Board, reorganization of the Civil Service Commission from civil service positions, at the Stae House, during the past two weeks.

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for a concert to be given by members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the auspices of Christ Church. With Mrs. E. Dean Walen as general chairman, a large committee will be working for the next few weeks to make this one of the most entertaining concerts ever given in Andover.

Andover goes to town meeting at seven next Monday, facing the worst tax rate, by far, in the town's history.

The finance committee's estimated rate of $31.90 according to the assessors who have been able to get later more reliable information from the state house, is an underestimate. The assessors who for the past few years, have estimated lower than the finance committee, this year estimate a tax of slightly over $34, based on the finance committee's recommended expenditures. State assessments are some $32,000 over the finance committee estimate and state income tax returns are lower. This represents a jump of nearly three dollars over the finance committee figure, with the expectation of some gas tax return to reduce it to about $34.

The Young Men's Republican Club sponsored a spirited discussion for various articles of the town warrant at the open meeting last Thursday night. Vice President Milton Jackson acted as moderator of the discussion in which the guests participated as freely as the members. Candidates for office were introduced and were asked to speak to the members concerning problems confronting the town.

Official Little League tryouts are scheduled for the middle of this month—and baseball-happy young lads from all over the town are getting warmed up for the annual period of selection.

The Board of Health has informed the Land Acquisition Committee that sites recommended in South Andover for school use poses serious problems for the town.

10 Years Ago — February 1979

The board of selectman Monday night were concerned that the $195,000 repairs to the Bancroft School roof might be legally considered renovations, forcing the town to spend additional money to make the building architecturally accessible to the handicapped. According to state law, any public building which is renovated must also have all architectural barriers to the handicapped removed.

Andover high school officials have announced that a senior class party scheduled for April is not a school sponsored function.

Assistant Principal Wilbur Hixon said Wednesday that, "It has been brought to our attention that a function, billed as a senior class dinner party is planned for Thursday, April 15. This is not a school approved or sponsored function; therefore we do not assume any responsibility for this activity."

Any license or permit denied, suspended or revoked under this section shall not be reissued or renewed until the license authority receives a certificate issued by the tax collector that the party is in good standing with respect to any and all local taxes, fees, assessments, betterments or other municipal charges, payable to the municipality as the date of issuance of said certificate.

(c) Any party shall be given an opportunity to enter into payment agreement, thereby allowing the licensing authority to issue a certificate indicating said limitations to the license or permit and the validity of said license shall be conditioned upon the satisfactory compliance with said agreement. (d) The board of selectmen may waive such denial, suspension or revocation if it finds there is no direct or indirect business interest by the property owner, its officers or stockholders, if any, or members of his immediate family, as defined in section one of chapter two hundred and sixty-eight in the business or activity conducted in or on said property.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

By Beverly Kimball, G.R.I. & C.R.B.
Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

THE PAPERWORK

If you're selling a home, the most important part of the transaction occurs after you've found a buyer. If your property is being professionally marketed, the selling agent puts together the purchase offer, then gets together with the lister to present it to you. If you're trying to sell your home on your own, using a form purchased from a local stationary store, you could run into problems.

Each local Board of Realtors has its attorneys draft up standard forms that reflect the legal requirements of the jurisdiction in which you live. These contract forms include the sales price, who pays which closing costs, termite clauses, financing contingencies, structural inspections, settlement deadlines, and other terms that are included to meet local government requirements. These forms are complicated, and a slight variation in language can often cost or save you thousands of dollars. If you're planning to sell and are thinking about doing it on your own to save the brokerage fee, you might find that it's a false economy. Many of our listings come from people who thought their homes were sold, only to lose the would-be buyers at the last minute on a technicality.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate. Call us at 685-5000 or stop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.
